

I am in opposition to this proposed "broadcast flag" regulation of what i see on telivision today. the fact that i freely enjoy the ability to save a copy of what i watch on tv only increases my interest and fan-support. driving me away from this entertainment is not what the industry is looking for, i believe, and i represent the average american.

JTP